The Client

Confronted with a small area allotted for storage, Central York High School needed to find a storage solution that would give them the capacity they needed in the space allowed.

The athletic department wanted a more efficient and catalogued way to store their sports equipment and uniforms in this area.

Two systems were needed: one in a field house adjacent to the football field for their equipment and one inside the school for the equipment of the other sports played in the gymnasium.

Storage Solution

The floor plans for both areas were assessed and a unique system for each was designed.

High density MobileTrak5® systems equipped with 4Post™ were utilized and designed to maximize the storage capacity of the allotted rooms without overcrowding the entire room.

4Post™ shelves were used for regular storage of helmets, gear, and boxes, while garment rods were fitted to store hanging garments, such as jerseys.

This solution provided a cleaner and easier way to access their stored sports equipment without the need to rummage through bins and stacks of boxes.

“The units have allowed us to maximize our space, hang our uniforms more efficiently and neatly, and also provide easy access for distribution.”
